LIVINGSTON CAMERA CLUB

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Livingston Camera Club will hold a reception on Friday evening, March 19, from 7:00 to 9:00 for its members' exhibit, THRU THE LENS V. There will be 48 photographs in the exhibit at the Senior/Community Center at 204 Hillside Avenue in Livingston. The photos will be on view through April 18. The Livingston Camera Club is one of the member organizations of the Arts Council of Livingston, which is the umbrella group for Livingston's visual and performing arts. The exhibit was hung by council member, Harriet Kaufman, and members of the camera club.

Seven black and white photos on display are in remembrance of Stephen Kaplan who recently died. He was a member for 25 years and still did darkroom work on his monochrome photos in addition to his work with digital photography.

Jean Davidson, chair of the exhibit, hopes that those of you, who are interested in photography, will find time to attend the reception. She knows that you will be impressed with the great variety of talent and images. It will be an excellent opportunity to meet the photographers, talk to them about their images, enjoy delicious refreshments and get to know more about the club. There are well over 40 members in the club but not all have their work on display. Included in the exhibit are photos from Livingston residents, Tom Adams, Larry and Mira Agron, Vincent Albanese, Michal Barkai, Bonnie Garely, Rebecca Konstandt, Harriet Kushins, Lewis Stoll and Alyse Wolfson.

While the majority of club members are from Livingston, some are not. Club membership is open to anyone with an interest in photography. Meetings are twice a month and alternate between programs and competitions. The exhibit was judged, by Brien Szabo, an active and award winning photographer. About 20 % of the photographs will be selected for awards. The ribbons will be presented at the reception.

Guests are always welcome at club functions. Call 973-625-4820 if you need more information or visit the club's web site, www.livingstoncameraclub.org .
